The corn market was yesterday nervous and irregular, September alone showing strength throughout. The market was firm at the opening, but the later menths weakened in the last hour on the general economic situation and the circulating of several unfounded rumors. With the railroad strike extending and other difficulties arising the trade was not prone to look on the buying side. There also was considerable apprehasion concerning legislation which President Wilson will advocate in regard to food prices when he appears before Congress this afternoon. It is the general consensus opinion that he will urge the extension of food control to other commodities. Rumors were plenty, colating of several unfounded rumors.

There also was considerable apprehinsion concerning legislation which President Wilson will advocate in regard to food prices when he appears before Congress this afternoon. It is the general consersus a upinion that he will urge the extension of food control to other commodities. Rumors were plenty. One of them that Julius Barnes, Grain Administrator, had resigned had a bearish influence on the market. There was a large amount of evening up, not only in anticipation of the Government report this afternoon, but also by many who did not wish to hold stocks over night. They believed that the situation was fraush with too many unsettled disturbances to carry their holdings, hence their method is to buy during the day and sell out before the close.

The car shortage is becoming acute because of the labor difficulties which the railroads are experiencing, making shipments of cereals almost impossible. Then cash corn is selling high, not having had any break with the futures. Early strength in the distant months was primarily due to the reports of hot and dry weather, with some crop deterioration in the Southwest. It was felt also that Wednesday's upward move had not been completed, but longs on the whole were cautious.

yield is 18.5 bushels an acreage for the last for years. The yield of sprins wheat is reported as 19.2 bushels, against a ten year acreage of 15.9 hushels. Indications point to a crop in the three big Northwestern States of 15.0000,000 to 140,000,000 bushels.

Outs were irregular, following corn, and displayed firmness in the morning only to sell off in the atternoon. Prices did not decline as much as corn near the close. They meowered before the close on ahort covering. The cash market was dull but steady. Small country offerings and predictions of light register the carry upturn. Many are of the opinion that the Government report will be a disappointment and that foreign buying has been larger during last week than has been reported. Provisions, after a strong opening, with pork selling up 21 a barrel, weakened later on light support.

SPRING ALLOTTED American Woolen Co. Cuts Customers' Orders Half

LIVE TOPICS OF THE

The American Woolen Company opened yesterday its line of fancy worsteds and woollens for the spring season, 1220, in departments 2, 2 and 7, and two numbers in silvertones in deor Three-fourths.

Staples have been eliminated entirely and the merchandise which the company has to offer is to be distributed on the allotment basis, some buyers receiving allotments up to 50 per cent, of last year's business, while reports were to the effect that others had received only the effect that others had received only 25 per cent.

Interests in the industry assert that beyond question, in view of the limited quantity of goods offered, this was the most extraordinary opening ever made in the business.

Prices named were as follows: Department 2, fancy worsteds, from $2.17½ to $4.55; department 3, fancy woollens, on % goods, from 70 cents to 77½ cents, and on 8-4 goods from $1.45 to $4.77½, all wool goods beginning at $1.75; department 7, fancy worsteds from $3.50 to $6.50; department 4, two numbers of silvertones at $3.25 and $4, respectively.

Paterson Strikers Split.

The strike in the silk industry in Paterson has developed into a fight among some of the workers rather than a contest between the workers and the employers. The conservative element is said to be opposed to continuing the strike, but 1,200 broad silk weavers, members of the United Textile Workers, and 1,100 ribbon weavers, connected with the same organization, object to the methods of the international officers in signing the agreement with the manu-

Reports going the rounds of the local wholesale furnishings market hint at a further advance by manufacturers on October 1 in the price of men's collars

The following judgments were filed yes-terday, the first name being that of the debtor: and 1,100 ribbon weavers, connected with the same organization, object to the methods of the international officers in signing the agreement with the manufacturers for a forty-four hour week, and it seems that their strike now is against these officers and not against the manufacturers.

So great is their objection to the way the agreement was signed, in secret session, that the suggestion has been made on many of these weavers that they organize a separate union and conduct their own negotiations with the manufacturers. 104.21 Greenberg, Harris—A. These workers declare they are through with the United Textile Workers, but add also that they have no use for the Amaigamated and will not enter the ranks of the radicals. This would indicate that another organization is in the making.

SIIK Market Quiet, but Steady.

The local raw silk market is quiet but steady and prices are holding their ground, H. L. Gwalter & Co. report. Manufacturers appear fairly well covered for immediate needs, and are watching developments of the labor situation. The demand for silk fabrics of all kinds continues at record rate and far exceeds the capacity of the mills throughout the country.
